

HOLLAND COMMUNITY THEATRE

HEALTH & SAFETY PROTOCOLS

Indoor Performances and Events

All plans are subject to change. Protocols will be revised pending updates from government officials, the status of COVID-19 in the community, advice from medical professionals, and other factors to protect health and safety.

Health & Safety Protocols

We remain ever-vigilant of the health of our patrons, volunteers, performers, and staff and would like you to keep the following commitments and policies in mind prior to your arrival at our theater.

The following protocols apply to indoor performances only.

Current COVID-19 Protocols

We are following the MDHHS policies. As the MDHHS policies are amended, HCT will adapt these as well.

As of August 10th, 2021, masks are recommended indoors for all persons regardless of vaccination status. Masks may be removed when consuming food and drink.

Because of concerns over the Delta variant, we are monitoring the situation very closely, and will make official changes to our guidelines if MDHHS post new policies as they arise.

We have additional information, including our new sanitation procedures located below.

Entering the Theatre

- If you are feeling ill, for any reason, please refrain from attending your scheduled event. The box office will be happy to exchange your tickets for a future date, free of charge.

Hands-Free Ticketing

- Patrons may check-in mobile device or printed ticket, and ushers will assist patrons to their seats inside the theatre.

Cleaning & Sanitation

- All areas of the building are being cleaned. Improved and regular sanitation to all areas of the theatre remain in place, indefinitely.

Patron Safety

- If for any reason you ever feel unsafe, please inform a staff member immediately.
- Implementation of contact tracing; all patrons purchasing tickets are required to provide contact information going forward.

Safety Guidelines for Staff, Artists & Volunteers

- Anyone who is feeling ill should stay at home.
- Rehearsals may be virtual if needed.
- Personnel are following State and Local guidelines to reduce the spread of Covid and non-Covid illnesses, including requirements on when to stay home and/or when to return to work.

Preparedness and response plan available upon request.
